

The Personal Interest Project

1. The requirements for writing your PIP can be found here
2. The marking guidelines for the PIP can be found here
3. The State Library of New South Wales has in its care exemplary Personal Interest Projects for past HSC students. Read about some of these wonderful examples of student work found at here
4. The Society and Culture web site also has interesting information about PIPs. Click here to read articles written specifically about preparing the PIP
To read extracts from past award winning PIPs click here
5. Examples of Personal Interest Projects from students judged at band achievement levels can be found here
6. Particularly relevant for Society and Culture students and teachers are the online resources and the PIP extracts available from the Library.
 - HSC researching beyond Google and Pinterest:
<http://www.sl.nsw.gov.au/system/forms/selfreg.html>
 - Databases from home: <http://www2.sl.nsw.gov.au/eresources/> (requires a library card)
 - Request a library card: <http://www.sl.nsw.gov.au/system/forms/selfreg.html>
 - Library catalogues: Library catalogues
<http://www.sl.nsw.gov.au/using/search/index.html?HomeLink=Search>